Marco Olivas Aguirre Memorial Scholarship

Amount: $1,000 per year for two years

Number available: 1

Description: The Marco Olivas Aguirre Memorial Scholarship is a competitive scholarship that provides graduating seniors with financial support to further their educational goals beyond high school. The fund is established in the memory of a Mapleton Early College graduate who passed away in 2016.

Marco Olivas Aguirre was born in Mexico, where as a young toddler he developed a persistent fever, the cause of which his family doctors could not diagnose. After many visits to multiple doctors, his parents were told to prepare for his death. Instead, they resolved to bring him to the United States. When they arrived in Colorado and took him to Children's Hospital, he was diagnosed with a rare medical condition called Hyper IgM Syndrome, a severe autoimmune disorder, and received the medical assistance necessary to save his life. He faced remarkable challenges from a young age, including numerous major surgeries, severe respiratory infections, stunted physical growth, and the need to breathe with the assistance of oxygen. These challenges only made Marco stronger. He was a talented and motivated student, always working hard, asking lots questions, reading voraciously. He loved learning. He also loved to play video games, help out his family at home, and especially loved caring for his baby brother. He was a student who had immense potential and desire to positively impact his community. During high school, he developed a desire to study biology so that he could pursue a career that would allow him to help other young people who had severe medical conditions. He was immensely grateful to the United States for quite literally saving his life, and he had a deep desire to give back. Recognized for his passion and potential, the community rallied around an online fundraising campaign to help him attend Front Range Community College. He passed away suddenly from medical complications in the winter of 2016.

This scholarship seeks to honor Marco's legacy and make a difference in the lives of scholarship recipients who have faced or are facing difficult challenges or circumstances. It is funded by Marco's original college fund, and by donations from the Mapleton and Thornton community. Priority consideration will be given to those applicants who demonstrate a passion for helping and continuing to support their community, and who have coped with adversity. Academic performance is a secondary consideration.

Submit application form and all common application requirements.

SUCCESS TIPS FOR APPLICANTS

While every scholarship offered by the Foundation has its own specific eligibility criteria and application requirements, there are things that you can do as an applicant for any scholarship program to make sure that you submit your strongest application. Here are a few things to keep in mind.

- Follow instructions! It is amazing how many applicants lose points (or are completely disqualified) because they didn't follow instructions. Don't make that mistake! Read instructions carefully and if you have questions – ask!
- Care about the overall presentation. Strong applications follow all of the instructions, are typed and have been carefully proof read. Your application should be clean, neat, and well presented. First impressions count. Take the time to put your best foot forward!
- Proof, proof, proof. Don't just submit your first draft. Put it away for a day and read it again. Spell check doesn't do it all. Have someone else read over your application before you turn it in. Don't let typos and grammatical errors distract the reviewer from what you're trying to say. Make sure to upload the appropriate documents to the appropriate location on the online application.
- Tell your story. Make sure that the written materials that you submit – your personal statement and any scholarship essays – are well written, thoughtful, focused and clear. Make sure that you address what is being asked of you – and give examples to support what you are saying. This is your chance to shine as an individual and to tell your own individual story. What makes you unique and special? And don't forget to proof your writing!
- It's not all about the grades. Your academic history is only a part of what is taken into consideration. What is important to you? How do you spend your time? Do you work, volunteer, play sports, sing, dance or participate in clubs or other activities? Do you help out at home or are you active in something outside of school? Are you a leader? Have you won anything? What are you committed to? Use your resume and your written statements to tell the bigger picture.
- Turn in your application on time! You've got weeks to prepare. Don't wait until the last minute. It shows. Also, make sure your application is COMPLETE.
- Be confident! Everyone has a shot at a scholarship. It's up to you to present yourself in the best possible light. Take the time to prepare your application. Pick people for your letters of recommendation who really know you and can speak to your strengths. Your application is your time to shine. Take advantage of the opportunity!

GOOD LUCK!
